Requirements for U.S. Postal Inspectors

U.S. Postal Inspectors are federal law enforcement officers. Postal Inspectors have investigative jurisdiction in all criminal matters involving the integrity and security of the U.S. Postal Service.

Postal Inspectors investigate criminal, civil, and administrative violations of postal laws and are responsible for protecting the revenue and assets of the Postal Service. Inspectors are required to carry firearms, make arrests, testify in court, serve subpoenas, and write comprehensive reports. They must operate motor vehicles and may undergo moderate to arduous physical exertion under unusual environmental conditions. It is essential that Inspectors be in sound physical condition and be capable of performing vigorous physical activities on a sustained basis. The activities may require Inspectors to perform the following: climb ladders; work long and irregular hours; occupy cramped or crowded spaces for extended periods of time; exert physical force in the arrest, search, pursuit, and restraint of another person; and protect themselves and others from imminent danger.

The duties of the position require the ability to communicate with people from all walks of life, be proficient with firearms, have skills in self-defense, and have the ability to exercise good judgment. Inspectors may be relocated according to the needs of the Service.

The recruitment process is extremely thorough, and there is intense competition for relatively few positions. The recruitment and selection process must be completed prior to the applicant’s 37th birthday.

This position is exempt from the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and does not qualify for overtime compensation. Postal Inspector salaries are based on the Inspection Service Law Enforcement (ISLE) pay system. The ISLE pay grades and steps correspond to the General Schedule (GS) pay scale for law enforcement officers.

Selection procedures include the following:

- Completion of this application.
- Written examination, including a business writing test and the 620 Entry Examination (cognitive abilities).
- Language proficiency test, if applicable.
- Completion of the Comprehensive Application Packet.
- Assessment Center evaluation of knowledge, skills, and abilities.
- Medical examination.
- Polygraph examination.
- Background suitability investigation.
- Management interview.
- Drug screening.
- Residential basic training program at Potomac, Maryland.
- Six-month probation period for nonpostal and nonfederal law enforcement applicants.
Recruiting Standards

Applicants must be U.S. citizens between 21 and 36 years of age and meet all the General Requirements to apply for the position of U.S. Postal Inspector. The Postal Inspection Service is currently seeking individuals who meet the General Requirements, as well as at least one of the Special Requirements, listed below. Applications that do not contain one of the Special Requirements will be kept on file for two years and then purged. If an applicant’s skills change during the two-year period, the applicant should contact the Postal Inspection Service.

General Requirements

Applicants must meet the requirements below and undergo a full medical suitability exam to determine fitness to perform the duties of a Postal Inspector, including, but not limited to, the following:

- A conferred, four-year degree from an accredited college or university.
- Binocular vision must test 20/40 (Snellen) without corrective lens. Uncorrected vision must test at least 20/100 in each eye. Each eye must be corrected to 20/20, with good color identification and discrimination, depth perception, and normal peripheral vision. Radial keratotomy or orthokeratology are not acceptable.
- Hearing loss, as measured by an audiometer, must not exceed 30 decibels (A.S.A. or equivalent I.S.O.) in either ear in the 500, 1,000, and 2,000 Hz ranges. The applicant must have the ability to perceive normal speech discrimination.
- In good physical condition (weight proportional to height) and possessing emotional and mental stability. Manual dexterity with comparatively free motion of fingers, wrists, elbows, shoulders, hips, and knee joints. Arms, hands, legs, and feet must be sufficiently intact and functioning in order to perform duties satisfactorily.
- No felony convictions (felony charges may also render applicant ineligible).
- No misdemeanor conviction of domestic violence (other misdemeanor charges or convictions may also render applicant ineligible).
- A current, valid state driver’s license, held for at least two years.
- Ability to demonstrate these attributes, as measured by the Assessment Center:
  - Write and speak English clearly.
  - Schedule and complete activities in a logical, timely sequence.
  - Comprehend and execute instructions written and spoken in English.
  - Think clearly and comprehend verbal and nonverbal information.
  - Interact with others to obtain or exchange information or services.

Drug Policy

The U.S. Postal Inspection Service is firmly committed to a drug-free society and workplace. The unlawful use of drugs by Inspection Service employees is not tolerated, and those who apply for employment with the Inspection Service and currently use illegal drugs are considered unsuitable for employment. While we do not condone prior unlawful drug use by applicants, we realize some otherwise qualified applicants may have experimented with illegal drugs at some point in their past.

The following policy sets forth criteria for determining whether applicants' prior use of illegal drugs renders them unsuitable for employment. The policy balances the needs of the Inspection Service to maintain a drug-free workplace and the public integrity necessary to accomplish its law enforcement mission with the desirability of affording employment opportunities to the broadest segment of society, consistent with those needs.

Criteria

- Applicants who have illegally used drugs while in a law enforcement or prosecutorial position with a high level of responsibility or public trust are considered unsuitable for employment.
- Applicants who have deliberately misrepresented their drug history in their application are considered unsuitable for employment.
- Applicants who have sold an illegal drug are considered unsuitable for employment.
- Applicants who have illegally used any drug (other than cannabis) within the past 10 years are considered unsuitable for employment, absent compelling, mitigating circumstances. Applicants are also considered unsuitable if they illegally used drugs other than cannabis on five or more occasions more than 10 years before applying for employment.
- Applicants who have used cannabis within the past five years are considered unsuitable for employment absent compelling, mitigating circumstances. Applicants are also considered unsuitable if they have used cannabis on 15 or more occasions more than five years before applying for employment.

I fully understand the need for the U.S. Postal Inspection Service Drug Policy, and I am in compliance with the stated Drug Policy.
